

HUMBI 1

Lolium perenne

- A very good package
- Good disease resistance
- Moderate spring growth
- Good yield performance

HUMBI 1 = high quality in a box solution

The big advantage of this variety is the all in one solution. On one hand it has good resistance against rust. It is persistent and equipped with good further interior quality as feeding quality.

On the other hand it yields distinctively better than average. This means that even if you try, you will not find any weak point in this variety. In other words, if you sum up all the good characters, HUMBI 1 is the variety to choose if an all-round player in a mixture is needed.

Due to the described good agronomic quality HUMBI 1 can be used in different management systems, in grazing as well as in cut regimes and all possible managements in between.

With HUMBI 1 you are very flexible in how the field is utilized!
